

PRESIDENT'S REPLY TO GERMAN PEACE PROPOSALS WITHHELD FOR FEW DAYS

Conferring with Entente Nations as to Form of Answer—Armistice Will Not be Granted Under Any Consideration.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Indications were tonight that President Wilson's reply to Germany's latest peace proposals will not be despatched for a day or two. The president is conferring with the premiers of entente nations of the form of the answer but while there may be some question as to the form the reply will take there is no question whatever as to its nature.

It may not use the short and forceful term "unconditional surrender" which would reflect the sentiment which has come from the spokesmen of the nation but it is sure to convey to the German government very clearly the fact that nothing less than the terms already laid down can be accepted and that those terms cannot be made merely "the basis for negotiations."

To an armistice such a step would be looked upon as suicidal and not to be thought of.

It is purposed in the reply to avoid making a curt, peremptory rejection which could be used by the central powers, before their own people to bolster up the argument that they are waging a defensive war and that the objects of the co-belligerents are to "destroy" them.

It is considered highly probable that the president has taken one of two likely courses. Either he has asked Premiers Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Orlando to advise him of their replies, or, more likely still, has formulated a reply and asked the premiers for their acquiescence.

Senate Debate Expresses Government's View.

The temper of debate in the senate today and the general tone of public opinion in the United States as expressed in the newspaper comment are a very fair index of the government's views. The consensus of opinion in the senate debate was that the offer should be rejected; the practically unanimous public opinion as reflected in newspapers all over the country was that no peace terms short of "unconditional surrender" could be discussed.

It is very clear that the reply will be not only an answer to Germany and her allies but a statement for the historical record of the world. It is realized on every hand that a rejection of a peace offer must be convincing and one which will justify the prolonging of the war to the ends sought. It is realized that it must be convincing to the people of Great Britain, France, Italy and the United States so that they may be warned against the insidious danger of throwing away the hard won victory so near their grasp and at the same time leave no opportunity for the militarist leaders of the central powers to lure their people on to more bloodshed and sacrifice.

Wilson May Explain Reply to Congress

President Wilson after despatching the reply, may decide to address congress and state in detail the reasons which cause the allies to reject the proposal but there is no official indication that the president plans such a course.

Colonel E. M. House, the president's constant adviser, and personal representative on many confidential errands, arrived at the white house tonight. His coming followed a busy day for the president in which all other business was put aside, recreation was abandoned.

Mr. Wilson spent the day in his study. It was said he was writing.

Carefully Considering Note

In explaining the necessity for carefully considering action at this time, officials pointed out that the proposition is for formal and open discussions with hostilities suspended in the meantime. Therefore, the fact is recognized that the people of America and of the entente countries who are really desirous of peace on fair terms are entitled to an explanation of the reasons which moved the government in rejecting a proposal which on its face might appear to bear evidence of sincerity. They must understand officials say the impossibility of compliance with these requests without sacrifice of all the safeguards which are regarded as essential to the conclusion of the kind of peace which America and the allies are determined to have and for which so many lives already have been given, one that shall rid the world of German military domination and insure it against another even more savage war as soon as the German war lords can repair their shattered armies and rehabilitate their strained and broken financial and economic conditions.

It was emphasized that the idea must not go out that America does not desire peace for the war is waged for the realization of certain high ideals of democracy and liberty and not for revenge or desire ruthlessly to destroy any nation.

Another consideration which has influenced the officials who are shaping the course of these negotiations is the probable effect upon the German people themselves of a curt, sharp and unreasoned refusal of their appeal. They have been told by their rulers that the purpose of their enemies was the destruction of Germany and Austria.

People Finding Out Allies Cause

Now they are finding out that they are in no danger of extermination if they call off their armies and stop fighting. Work to end has been done by a system of propaganda in the enemy countries by entente and American agencies. Germany and Austria have been showered with

SIR ERIC GEDDIS ARRIVES IN U. S. FOR CONFERENCES

Issues a Statement Commending U. S. Army and Navy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—An admiralty board headed by Sir Eric Geddis, first lord of the British admiralty, arrived in Washington today as the guests of the navy department. The party came in response to an invitation extended by Secretary Daniels to Sir Eric some time ago and in part to return the visit to England of Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of the navy department.

Issue Statement

In a statement made public tonight Sir Eric said: "In the past we have had the great advantage of receiving in our own country distinguished United States naval officers and high officials and we know how valuable are these opportunities of closer consolidation. It is therefore a great pleasure to us and a source of keen satisfaction to have been invited to visit your country and confer with your admiralty."

"Personally I have the added pleasure of renewing my acquaintance with the United States of America where, as a young man, I spent some strenuous years studying and making good friends."

"For the last eighteen months we on our side have had the opportunity of seeing your navy at work and I am voicing the opinion not only of the royal navy and the British nation but of the whole of the allies when I say that your sailors, no less than your gallant troops have won our deepest admiration."

"Seamanship, technical skill, endurance, ingenuity and fellowship—all of these we knew we could expect from the United States navy and it is these very qualities in a degree far exceeding our anticipation which have endeared your officers and men to us all and have brought about complete unity of spirit and purpose between the two great navies to which the present visit of the board of admiralty bears testimony."

"The kindness of the invitation and the cordial and hospitable welcome of the president, Mr. Lansing, Mr. Daniels, Admiral Benson and all other representatives of your great country whom we have met has touched us deeply and my colleague, Vice-Admiral Duff, and all of our party most gratefully acknowledge it."

Vessel Ploes the Admiralty

The fact that the admiralty vessel which brought the party to the United States flew the admiralty flag may have significance. Never before has this ensign been flown out of British home waters. It meant that a board of the admiralty, vested with full power to make decisions for the admiralty which need not be referred for confirmation was on the ship.

Admiral Benson, chief of operations, met the visitors when they landed and escorted them to Washington where they were received with full naval honors. The day was devoted to an interchange of greetings. Sir Eric luncheon with President Wilson at the White House and tomorrow conferences will begin on all matters involved in the joint effort of the allies and the United States to crush German naval power and also to make safe the seas for troop transports. The exact nature of the subjects to be taken up has been discussed.

The only incident of the trip across, Sir Eric said, was a good omen. About 24 hours out a young American eagle alighted in the radio aerials of the ship. Later it was brought down and the British first lord of admiralty confirmed for himself the fact that he was being thus welcomed to American soil.

AMERICANS PUSH THEIR LINES FORWARD

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Oct. 7.—(By The Associated Press)—General Pershing's troops this morning attacked the German positions on the left wing of this front. The Americans made progress to a point corresponding with their advance last yesterday in the region of Cunel woods on the right wing.

The presence of storm troops opposite the American center and the increased activity behind the German lines leads to the belief that the enemy is planning counter-attacks.

There is increasing evidence that the Germans intend not only to hold the Kreimhilde position if possible but to force a fight in front of it. Consequently, the Americans are now fighting in the chosen for their main stand.

Von Hindenburg Resigns After Row With Kaiser

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg has resigned as chief of the German general staff after a heated interview with the emperor in which the field marshal declared that a retreat on a large scale was impossible to avoid, according to a Central News dispatch from Amsterdam today.

Field Marshal von Hindenburg has been chief of the German army since August 20, 1916. In the last six months there have been various reports of a sensational nature centering about the field marshal. During June there were reports that the marshal had died and in July it was said that General von Ludendorff had been made chief of staff. These reports, however, were denied. A Zurich despatch reported that serious difficulties had arisen between the German politicians and the Prussian military leaders, and German deserters were quoted as saying that a Bavarian prince had tried to shoot the field marshal but that von Hindenburg was not wounded. In commenting on the American and French reply to Austria's peace proposal late in September the field marshal told the German people to "be hard."

LIBERTY LOAN SLOWED DOWN BY PEACE TALK

Seven Days' Solicitation Nets Little Over Billion

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Seven days of solicitation for the fourth Liberty Loan have yielded $1,223,716,950 and only eleven working days remain in which to raise the balance of the six million. Reports compiled tonight by the treasury, covering receipts to Saturday night showed 22 per cent of the loan has been subscribed and backed up by initial payments.

This did not take into consideration rather large aggregates gathered yesterday in many cities by house to house canvassers.

Apprehension that peace news from abroad might cause relaxation of effort by workers and subscribers became more distinct in the capital today on receipt of reports from communities throughout the country that individuals and business firms were inclined to postpone making their subscriptions until late in the campaign while watching the progress of the central powers' offensive.

Secretary McAdoo issued a statement saying that "now is the time above all others not to relax but to intensify efforts."

The St. Louis district, still leads others in percentage achievements, according to treasury tabulations.

Subscriptions and percentages of quotas by districts are as follows:

District	Subscriptions	Percentages
St. Louis	$123,219,700	47.3
Minneapolis	84,084,200	40.0
Boston	181,594,850	36.0
San Francisco	123,187,150	30.6
Dallas	32,628,840	25.8
Richmond	64,019,650	22.8
Chicago	178,297,750	20.4
New York	89,750,400	17.0
Philadelphia	305,739,000	15.9
Cleveland	100,183,000	15.0
Atlanta	16,213,300	12.8
Kansas City	24,749,100	09.5

POSTPONE HEARINGS ON ANTI-TRUST SUITS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Postponement of the hearings of all pending anti-trust suits until the next term was asked of the supreme court today in motions filed by Attorney General Gregory. "These motions are made," Attorney General Gregory said in the government brief in view of war conditions set forth in a motion filed with the court in December last for the continuance of several of the same cases over the last term—conditions which still obtain.

"Notice has been given to the opposing counsel," continued the government brief "and so far as we are advised there is no opposition to the motion in any case except that counsel for the United States Steel Corporation have asked that it be stated to the court that they are opposed to a continuance."

The cases to which the motions applied are those of the Reading company, the so-called Anthracite case, the United States Steel Corporation, Eastman Kodak company, Associated Bill Posters and Distributors, American Can company, Quaker Oats company, Corn Products Refining company, Lehigh Valley Railroad company and the Southern Pacific company.

MOBILIZE RED CROSS FORCES TO FIGHT INFLUENZA

Disease is Spreading Rapidly Thruout the Country

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Mobilization of the full forces of the American Red Cross to combat the epidemic of Spanish influenza which rapidly is spreading over the country was determined upon today and instructions sent to all chapters. In co-operation with the public health department and the state boards of health, the Red Cross will enroll nurses and will freely use its accumulated hospital supplies to fight the plague.

A call also will be made for volunteers to go into the homes where mothers and housekeepers are ill and assume the management of the households.

In a further effort to curb the spread of the disease surgeon General Blue today suggested to all state health officers that the schools and amusement places be closed and public meetings discontinued in all places where the malady becomes prevalent.

Reports today showed both that the disease is spreading and that the number of cases reported where it had been prevalent heretofore is increasing. This however, was not the situation in army camps, the number of new cases reported during the forty eight hours ending at noon today showing a slight decrease.

Pneumonia Still Increasing.

Pneumonia in the camps continued to increase with 4,532 new cases and 1,388 deaths reported since Saturday.

Influenza cases reported from all camps since the disease became epidemic Sept. 13 now total 167,000, pneumonia cases 17,102 and deaths 4,910. Camp Dodge, Iowa, reported the largest number of new influenza cases during the 48 hours period to noon today with 3,692 cases.

Many calls for aid from cities were received today by the public health service and doctors and nurses are being dispatched as rapidly as possible, thus far a total of 126 physicians have been sent out, 130 going to Massachusetts alone. The epidemic has been most severe in that state but reports today indicated that the situation was slightly improved.

Acute Shortage of Nurses.

Owing to the shortage of nurses in the country as the result of requirements for the army and demands already made upon the nursing personnel in connection with the epidemic, calls are being made for nurses, aids or any one with experience in nursing.

They were asked today by Dr. Blue to put themselves at the disposal of the government. Effect of the influenza epidemic on the country was emphasized today by an announcement of the ordnance department of the army that appeals had been sent to the workers in the 3,500 munition plants over the country asking them to speed up so that there may be no decrease in the output of munitions needed by the army in France.

Senators Demand Rejection of Hun Peace Proposal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Immediate rejection of the German and Austrian proposal for an armistice and peace negotiations was demanded in the senate today by leaders voicing the common sentiment of the membership.

There was no dissent from the view that an armistice would defeat all that America and the allies have been fighting for and every speaker during two hours of a spirited session devoted entirely to discussion of the enemy's latest move joined in declaring that only thru military victory should the cause of the allies and humanity be won. The suggestion of such a step was scornfully denounced as an insidious attack of a losing enemy.

Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, and Republican Leader Lodge of Massachusetts, ranking minority leader of the committee were among the speakers. The discussion which was made to vacant galleries, closed as a precaution against the Spanish influenza epidemic, may be renewed next Thursday when the senate reconvenes after a recess.

After Senator Hitchcock and others had declared an armistice impossible, Senator McCumber of North Dakota introduced a resolution proposing as the first requisite to any peace negotiations absolute surrender by Germany, including dissolution of her army and navy and pledges for complete indemnifications. The resolution was referred to the foreign relations committee.

SOLDIERS OF ALLIED ARMIES DO NOT FAVOR GERMAN PEACE TALK

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Oct. 7.—(By The Associated Press)—The soldiers of the allied armies want peace but no peace except a completely victorious one.

This was the opinion expressed by officers and men alike to The Associated Press correspondent today. If Germany is now willing to admit her utter defeat, then, say these men who have been fighting the good fight for the liberty of the world, so much the better, but they declare the granting of an armistice at this time, unless the enemy is absolutely sincere, might prove extremely dangerous.

"Victory first; then peace."

This is the manner in which French civilians, who have returned to their shell wrecked homes in northern France, expressed themselves, when the subject of an armistice is discussed. The same idea runs thru the minds of all the allied armies where men have seen their comrades die and where the feeling is that they have died in vain unless victory is absolute. The suspension of hostilities even for a few days would enable the Germans to continue their preparation of lines to which they might retire for the winter. At the moment the Hindenburg system has been smashed and the German military leaders have every reason to believe that they may soon be fighting back over country in which at present they have no lines, no dugouts, no protection from the advancing allied troops.

Allied Armies Have a Great Advantage.

The allied armies are in strong and advantageous positions and the general feeling here is that the defeat of Germany may come sooner than expected elsewhere than at the front.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

TELE BRIEFS Hyage jzVH

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—The Rock River conference of the Methodist Episcopal church adjourned today.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—The French have captured Berry-au-Bac, the war office announces tonight.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—A French naval division operating off the coast of Syria entered Beirut this morning. The enthusiasm of the populace was indescribable.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Three hundred thousand subscriptions amounting to more than $55,000,000 have been obtained in Chicago in the fourth liberty loan campaign it was announced tonight.

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—via London—The Americans this evening began an attack against the Germans between the Argonne forest and the Meuse, according to the German official communication issued tonight.

Battle Map Enlightening.

A glance at the German battle map is enlightening in this respect. Stretched along the front from the sea to Switzerland as represented by this map are little numbers designating the divisions placed at sections the respective enemy units occupy the waving battle lines. Except at two places along the front including Flanders the numbers are comparatively thin and placed far apart. But in the St. Quentin and Cambrai districts the numbers are so thickly placed as to make it difficult to get them all in.

Opposite the French and Americans on the Champagne front a similar situation exists. The Germans dare not take a single man away from these places, and as a matter of fact they are putting in every man they can lay hands on. It is no secret that the British will continue their powerful thrusts along where the enemy's strong lines of defense have been broken. The Germans know this but what they do not know is when and how and with what forces the attack will be launched. Indications are plentiful that the British are in a position to launch it when they see fit.

An armistice would save the situation for Germany.

19,942 CASES OF INFLUENZA IN ILLINOIS.

$1.70 A CITIZEN.

The $170,000,000 total asked for the United War Work Campaign of November 11-18 means little more than an average contribution of $1.70 by every man, woman and child in the country. And in the advantages of this drive given notable—and noble—organizations will share. These are the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the National Catholic War Council, the Jewish Welfare Board, the War Camp Community Service, the American Library Association and the Salvation Army. Contributions to individual organizations may be made but will not be encouraged since the division of the money contributed is to be on a pro rata basis.

WINNING COUNTIES

CAN NAME SHIPS

The Emergency Ship Building Corporation and the war department have granted the Eighth Federal Reserve District the privilege of naming ten transport ships and ten battle tanks. The contest is open to all counties in the 8th District, of which Morgan is one which raise their Fourth Liberty Loan quotas in dollars.

There are four general contest plans governing, and it is understood that none may be named after any individual, corporation or organization.

Morgan county may enter this ship naming contest. The committee in each county will be composed of five, including county chairman, director of sales, director of publicity, and others specified in the rules.

INTERESTING SERVICES AT CENTENARY SUNDAY

Last Sunday the exercises at Centenary church were especially interesting and impressive.

At the Sunday school hour the service flag was re-dedicated and two more stars were added and one gold star in memory of George James.

The morning service in the church was wonderfully uplifting and inspiring. It was communion day and the remarks of the worthy pastor, Rev. W. R. Leslie, were peculiarly fitting. Twelve new members received and all the older members received an inspiration which will not soon be forgotten. No regular sermon was delivered but the pastor used the time at his disposal in speaking of the matters pertaining to the sacred occasion. He quoted a remark of the eminent Henry Waterson that the salvation of the world depends on belief in Jesus Christ.

PEACE STILL IN DISTANCE.

In most cities the news of Austria Hungary's attitude and that of Germany in the peace proposal resulted in celebrations. Bells were rung, whistles blown and parades hastily formed. These celebrations were based on a misconception of what the Kaiser and his allies had really said. They have voted a willingness to discuss peace on the basis of the fourteen principles laid down by President Wilson. That is not the situation that the allies are looking for. Mr. Wilson as their spokesman has firmly declared the principles which must be accepted and not discussed. Those principles include unconditional surrender.

The Kaiser's later statement, however, has disillusioned those who were over-optimistic that the end of the war had come. The Kaiser told his courtiers that he was ready only for an "honorable peace" and everybody knows that the peace he would thus describe would in no way fit in with the allied conception of honorable.

FOR A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Talking about the proposal to hold a constitutional convention in this state, a question which is to be submitted to the voters in November, it is interesting to note that among the advocates of a constitution are the following:

The last General Assembly of Illinois.

The City Council of Chicago.

The last Republican State Convention.

The last Democratic State Convention.

Most of the leading newspapers of the State.

Illinois State Bar Association.

Illinois State Bankers' Association.

Illinois State Farmers' Institute.

State meeting of Corn Growers and Stockmen's Organization.

Illinois Equal Suffrage Association.

Citizens' Association of Chicago.

The Civic Federation of Chicago.

Chicago Association of Commerce.

Give four minutes to singing, say the Four-Minute Men. A singing army can't be beaten, and if the field army finds that true, the army of "the inner lines" ought to speed up and help win the war faster by singing.

The latest bulletin of the Four-Minute Men is given to plans for introducing four minutes of community singing into theater programs where Four-Minute Men are now speaking. Slides, with the words of well known tunes are thrown on the screen, and the audiences asked to join in and sing for four minutes.

This work has already begun in the picture theaters in Jacksonville. Anyone who has been at the Great Lakes Station or any of the army cantonments can testify to the truth of the statement that a singing army is indeed inspiring. It is easy to imagine how the "Huns" feel when they see and hear thousands of American troops coming at them, singing with vim and vigor.

SALUTE THE FLAG.

It is surprising how very few people in Jacksonville salute the American flag when it is seen in a parade. One of the first lessons a soldier gets at cantonments is to salute the flag and that applies just as well when the soldier is off duty as it does when he is at the camp. A soldier when a flag is passing in a parade stands at salute until the flag has been carried a paces beyond him. The civilian salute is to remove the hat and hold it pressed against the left shoulder. In many cities the rules are so rigidly observed that when a patriotic procession moves every male civilian spectator gives the regulation salute. Here in Jacksonville failure to follow this observance is no doubt merely from lack of familiarity with this well established custom and rule.

Another matter which local people should observe more strictly is to rise in every assembly during the singing of the Star Spangled Banner. In other cities failure of persons in audiences to comply with this custom has subjected them to some very unpleasant criticism.

In the funeral procession which moved along West State street and the business district Sunday with the American flag at the head, it was a notable fact that during the entire march from Fayette street to Jacksonville cemetery not more than twenty persons saluted the flag. And it was especially noteworthy that out of this number several were pupils at the School for the Blind. They could not see the National emblem but someone told them it was passing and true to their patriotic teaching they stood at salute.

SWORD OF THE AVENGER.

Anyone who holds the view that only a few leaders in Germany are responsible for Germany's war attitude and record should read the following from the Bache and Co. review. The statement is presented simply as another "view" on the subject.

"Do not let us be misled by this pharisaical agitation in Germany to establish a parliamentary government. The representatives of a people steeped up to the neck in the bloodthirsty crimes of an unjustified and bitterly selfish war, are no better to treat with than their present autocratic leaders. The German people are participants criminals with the Kaiser and his horde of brutal Pan-Germans.

"There has not been one minute when Germany and all of Germany, including all the German people, have not been ready to share in the plunder whenever and wherever their war bandits were able to seize it; no time when they have not approved oppression and the frightfulness of their armies wading thru the blood of women and children to reach the spoils.

"The attitude of the whole German nation was defiant and unrelenting when her armies began the drive in March. It was not until after the tide of the German thrust in July that she began to relent, and as she was swept on further and further, boldness turned to fear, and boastfulness to whining.

"And now with Bulgaria out and the shell cracking, Germany turns, or pretends to turn to parliaments and popular representation, as a hypocritical means of wresting an armistice from the avengers.

"After Germany has surrendered, whether the sword is handed in by a German parliament or by Hindenburg, there should be not an ounce of pity for the German people. They must pay the price—a bitter price—for all the horrors for which they, as much as the Kaiser, are to blame; for they supported him in his brutal policies to the very last, and will have adopted the subterfuge of a People's Parliament only because the sword of the avenger hangs over them.

SOME BOND BUYING REASONS.

There are some people who hold the view that the peace talk from Europe has come now as an astute effort on the part of the Kaiser and his associates to slow up the liberty loan. Whether or not this is true, it is a fact that subscriptions to the loan have not come thus far at a rate measuring up to government expectations or fast enough to complete the $6,000,000,000 quota in the time limit as originally set.

There is no question but what the bonds will be subscribed because the campaign closes, not only because patriotism demands this course as an answer to the enemy and proof of American loyalty, but because good business suggests it. Based on all precedent, it is very certain that the liberty bonds will be at a premium after the war closes. Supposing for the sake of argument that the war is over in the course of six months or a year. There is more reason for buying heavily of the bonds. The long headed investor can therefore put his money into bonds with the full assurance that it will not be many months until they go up in value, and many experienced financiers believe that ten or fifteen points is a low estimate, with a possibility of going 25.

The bonds return such a good rate of interest and are free from so many forms of taxation, and further, because the absolute security constitute an investment of a class which is not often available. So even if the war were going to be over next week, the right course is to buy bonds as a matter of good business. From a patriotic standpoint there is only one answer. The bonds must be placed because the money has already been spent by the government in the war preparations and the bonds will simply take the place of the treasury certificates already issued. Then the investor who hesitates can think of that other fact that the war expenses are going to be paid and it is merely a question of bonds or taxes. By the bond method the war cost is divided between the people of today and the next generation, while by taxes the people of today pay all the expenses. Let patriotism rule and choose bonds rather than taxes.

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

IN DAYS TO COME.

Wonder what we'll talk about when peace is here once more; can we discuss our aches and gout, as in the days of yore? Of course the war will be discharged for long years, three or nine; but some day 'twill grow stale and must take in its gory sign. And when war talk has had its day, and has become a crime, can we thrash out the price of hay, as in the olden time? Can you sit down with torpid friend your back against a wall, and talk, for long, long hours on end, about a game of ball? And will you ever, do you think, wear out your trusty throat, denouncing some long winded glib world lift to have your vote? I wonder what will be our theme when war's been dead so long, it seems much like an evil dream that made a night go wrong. It's hard to think of grownup gents in all the years to come, discussing playthings or cents, or pups or chewing gum. But doubtless in a little while we'll sing the same old tune, the same old theme will be in style—for we forget so soon! And you will spend a lot of time discussing gnats and fleas; and I will write a noble rhyme about the grocer's cheese.

RETURNS TO CAMP.

Doris Florent, who has been home for a ten days' visit with his wife and parents, left on a late train Monday for Camp Taylor. He is in the artillery company, likes camp life and is doing well. He finds that his mechanical training is of a good deal of value to him in his present work.

ROUTINE BUSINESS AT BOARD MEETING

Board of Education Transacted Routine Business Monday Evening—Rental Will be Charged for David Prince Building—Heat for Josephine Milligan School.

The board of education met last evening and transacted a variety of business. Bills of $2690.17 and salaries, $7,890.73 were paid. Edward Berry was chosen assistant janitor of the David Prince building. The president was instructed to ascertain the law regarding permit to proceed with the high school building. Arrangements were made to heat the open air school building with the furnace in the Springer house. The matter of letting the gymnasium and other rooms in the David Prince building for various purposes was discussed and terms decided on. The state inspector has pronounced the school building in order with some additions which would be made to the equipment. The superintendent was instructed to secure grounds for athletic purposes.

The Proceedings.

The board met in regular session with all members present except Members Black and Metcalf, both out of the city. President Lippincott in the chair.

Member Pierson tendered thanks for the letter of sympathy sent by the board regarding the death of Miss Jessie Rotger. Bills for $2690.17 and salaries, $7,890.73 were ordered paid. The thanks of the board were tendered Mrs. Stella Stocker for the present of a picture of her father, the late Dr. David Prince. Bills of Architects, Itiner, Talmadge and Holman, helping compose the jury of award, were ordered paid.

The matter of the water used by Contractor Wells in constructing the tunnel was brought up and it was decided that he should pay for the water he used.

The high school building hall-ers had been inspected and pronounced all right.

Edward Berry was appointed assistant janitor at the David Prince building at a salary of $70 a month for ten months.

The question of the disposal of the injured trees on the high school of was brought up. It was suggested that no one would take them away for the wood in them and it was decided to let them stay where they are for the present. Possibly in the winter some one may be willing to get some good wood that way.

Permit for Building.

The chair suggested that possibly a government permit may be necessary in order to proceed with the new high school building. It was suggested that possibly it might be necessary before work could begin and the chair was instructed to attend to the matter.

Some more brick than those from the high school building will be needed for the heating plant and tunnel and the building and grounds committee was instructed to get them.

The law requires open air schools to be heated to at least fifty degrees and it was decided to take over the furnace which had been used to heat the Springer house and use it in the open air school building.

The Patriotic Service League sent thanks for the use of rooms in the David Prince building in the past and asked for them in the future. Military drill, folk dances, sewing and domestic science classes, all meet and require considerable room.

This matter precipitated a deal of important discussion. Now that there is no opera house in Jacksonville the David Prince building has about the only large auditorium available except the churches which are not available for most purposes. The cost of heat, light, apitor and general wear and tear is no small amount. The board desired to show every proper courtesy and at the same time it was imperative to seek the welfare of the city. A letter from H. T. White, in charge of the State School for the Deaf was read saying there would be a convention of teachers at the Deaf and Blind beginning Oct. 7th and continuing four weeks and it was decided to secure the use of the auditorium of the David Prince building once a week during the four weeks, Friday evenings being preferable.

Building Rental Fixed.

It was decided to let the state schools mentioned have the auditorium for an evening each week of the four at $20 a night. The evening to be designated by Supt. Perrin as the rooms are so much in demand it will be necessary to see that none conflict and all are accommodated as far as possible.

The superintendent was also authorized to arrange with the Patriotic League for future meetings, naming evenings and prices. Supt. Perrin reported cisterns at the Jefferson, Lafayette and Washington schools safe to use for drinking; the others not entirely.

The superintendent said there were a few mild cases of small-pox in the city but every precaution had been taken against the spread of the trouble and it was fully in hand. Regularly the nurse closely inspects each child in the schools and immediately reports and takes in hand all cases of illness isolating all of a suspicious character.

He said a water famine or shortage is imminent and that he thought it would be well to let the cisterns at all the school buildings be filled by the time the first rain falls.

The superintendent said there had been correspondence regarding steel lockers for the use of the pupils and a government permit would be necessary in order to get them. The president and secretary were instructed to formulate a letter to the proper authorities asking for permission to get the lockers on a priority order. The high school inspector had been here and pronounced the building and equipment all right provided some needed equipment was secured. A lot of maps and some other apparatus are needed and will be secured as soon as possible.

It was decided to ask for bids for a concrete fence four feet wide between the David Prince building and the Springer house. The superintendent was instructed to investigate the matter of valves by which heat could be shut off from certain rooms in the David Prince building while the others are in use.

The Illinois college grounds have heretofore been used by the athletic association but now the premises are converted to military use and it would be necessary to secure other place for football and similar purposes and the superintendent was instructed to see to the matter with power to act.

GREAT CARE NEEDED TO AVOID EPIDEMIC.

A Jacksonville physician who pays a good deal of attention to public health problems, believes that stringent measures should be taken in Jacksonville by local health authorities and by the board of education to prevent the possible spread of influenza. He last night pointed to the fact that in Peoria there are 300 cases, in Chandlerville 30 cases and in both instances schools have been closed and the public ordered to refrain from general gatherings. Church sessions are not allowed nor any general assemblages of the people.

Peoria and Chandlerville are only two places where such rules have been adopted, but in a number of cities the pupils from the schools have been temporarily dismissed and have been required to stay at their own homes or at least not to congregate in groups. This physician believes that a real crisis is presented in this country and that only the most drastic measures can prevent a widespread and general epidemic.

Community Saddened By Passing of Well Known People—Patriotic Meeting Held—News Notes.

Winchester, Oct. 7.—The community was shocked Sunday afternoon when the news of the death of Miss Louise Leach at 2 o'clock at a Jacksonville hospital was received. ## WILSON'S "14 CONDITIONS"

A summary of the necessary elements for world peace from the President's address to Congress, an Jan. 8, which Germany is now reported ready to accept:

1.—Open covenants peace without private international understanding.

2.—Absolute freedom of the seas in peace or war except as they may be closed by international action.

3.—Removal of the economic barriers, and establishment of equality of trade conditions among nations consenting to peace and associating themselves for its maintenance.

4.—Guarantees for the reduction of national armaments to the lowest point consistent with domestic safety.

5.—Impartial adjustment of all colonial claims based upon the principle that the people concerned have equal weight with the interest of the government.

6.—Evacuation of all Russian territory and opportunity for Russia's political development.

7.—Evacuation of Belgium without any attempt to limit her sovereignty.

8.—All French territory to be freed and restored and reparation for the taking of Alsace-Lorraine.

9.—Re-adjustment of Italy's frontiers along clearly recognizable lines of nationality.

10.—Freest opportunity for autonomous development of peoples of Austria-Hungary.

11.—Evacuation of Rumania, Serbia and Montenegro, with access to the sea for Serbia, and international guarantees of economic and political independence and territorial integrity of the Balkan states.

12.—Secure sovereignty for Turkey's portion of the Ottoman empire, but with other nationalities under Turkish rule assured security of life and opportunity of autonomous development with the Dardanelles permanently opened to all nations.

14.—General association of nations under special covenants for mutual guarantees of political independence and territorial integrity to large and small states alike.

Principles to Be Applied

In his address of February and in more recent addresses, the President laid down as the test as to whether it is possible to go further in comparison of views between Germany and the Allies, these principles:

First.—That each part of the final settlement must be based upon the essential justice of that particular case and upon such adjustments as are most likely to bring a peace that will be permanent.

Second, that peoples and provinces are not to be bartered about from sovereignty to sovereignty as if they were mere chattels and pawns in a game, even the great game, now forever discredited, of the balance of power; but that

Third, every territorial settlement involved in this war must be made in the interest and for the benefit of the populations concerned, and not as a part of any mere adjustment or compromise of claims amongst rival states; and

Fourth, that all well-defined national aspirations shall be accorded the utmost satisfaction that can be accorded them without introducing new or perpetuating old elements of discord and antagonism that would be likely in time to break the peace of Europe and consequently of the world.

You Want Specific Remedies Not "Cure-Alls"

A long time ago, we realized that the enlightened public was learning to discriminate between "cure-alls" and "specific remedies."

It always did go against our grain, as professional pharmacists to sell patent "cure-alls" about whose secret formulas we knew little or nothing. But we had to, as long as the public demanded them.

Nowadays, instead of secret preparations with a multiplicity of claims as panaceas for all ills, thinking people ask for Rexall remedies, each with its specific virtue in the relief of a specific ailment.

Thousands of persons from Springfield and central Illinois witnessed the most impressive centennial yet given in the long list of centennial events when the Catholics of this city yesterday gave their contribution to Illinois hundredth year by celebrating a field mass. The event given on the beautiful campus of Sacred Heart convent was attended by Governor and Mrs. Frank O. Lowden, Lord Charnwood of England and other state officials and other dignitaries. High in the Catholic church of Illinois.

Music furnished by two local bands, the Watch Factory and the Capitol City band, augmented with John Taylor's orchestra and a chorus of two hundred voices, gave a splendor to the sacred ceremonies that thrilled the spectators.

A beautiful altar erected in front of the convent building was flanked on either side by a living flag composed of young women dressed in the colors that carried out Old Glory and the Illinois Centennial emblem.

Home Guards Act as Escorts.

A military note was added to the occasion by the Home Guards who acted as an escort to the procession of Catholic societies that moved across the campus and massed before the altar. With the hands playing the Catholic hymn "Adeste Fideles" and the marching hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers," the impressive parade of Catholic bodies marched from the southeast gate of the campus before the convent building and then attended the mass.

The Rev. Father Hickey, Vicar-General of the Alton diocese, acted as chief celebrant at the solemn high mass.

Patriotism, custom and in some localities law, demand that male American citizens salute the flag. A soldier when the flag is passing in parade stands at salute until the emblem has been carried past 8 paces.

The civilian removes his hat and, with arm across his breast holds it near his left shoulder for the same length of time.

In every word and gesture where the Star Spangled Banner is sung the rules demand that the audiences stand.

PRIVATE LOUIS E. DAY IS LAID TO REST

Impressive Funeral Services Held at Northminster Church Sunday—Fall Military Honors Paid to Deceased Soldier.

A very large company of friends attended the funeral services held in memory of Private Louis E. Day, who passed away recently at Camp Grant as the result of pneumonia. The services were in charge of Rev. W. E. Collins, assisted by Rev. J. H. Morris.

The remains were escorted from the residence on North Diamond street to Northminster church by Co. C. At the church members of a number of organizations were present to show their respect. The G. A. R., W. R. C. Canteen Girls, Co. C and the Boy Scouts. Mrs. George Ferreira was at the organ and Mrs. Caroline Decker sang two hymns with great feeling.

The casket, draped with the American flag, was surrounded by a beautiful display of flowers evidencing the high esteem in which the deceased was held in this his home city. Rev. Mr. Collins read appropriate passages of Scripture and then an earnest prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Morris. After reading an obituary of the deceased together with a letter from an associate Red Cross director, Mr. Collins took a text which suggested that there should be an gleam at such a time but rather a cheerfulness and a resolution of spirit to lead on to victory and to bring about happier and more stable times out of the present world crisis.

He said that these days demand faith, the faith of Jesus Christ which dares to believe in the establishment of the Kingdom of God upon earth. It is true that all things work together for the good of those who love God and the Christian as he believes this and is able to apply it to daily happenings of his life, is put to the supreme test.

The obituary Mr. Collins read was as follows:

Louis Edward Day was born in Jacksonville, June 19, 1887, the son of John and Belle Scott Day. He received his education in the public schools of the city, leaving school to enter the employ of the Western Union Telegraph company in whose service he has been for 14 years a faithful and valued worker. After working in his city for several years, he went to Peoria, where for six years he had charge of a down town branch of the Western Union.

When the close confinement of the work began to tell on him, he returned to his home for a period of rest. While he was at home his mother's health began to fail, and he was constantly by her side from that time until her death, anticipating her every wish, ministering tenderly to her, and caring for her thru her long illness with a patience and skill born of loving devotion. At an early age he became affiliated with the Northminster Presbyterian church, and his life has been one of sound principles and high ideals to which he clung scrupulously and by which he lived.

He was called to the service of his country in August, and responded cheerfully and willingly, altho he feared that his strength would not hold out long. After a brief stay of four weeks in camp, he fell a victim to pneumonia following Spanish influenza, and passed beyond on Monday, September 30. His mother, his sister, Leola, and one brother, Edgar, passed on before him, and his father and two brothers, Clarence and Elmer, are left to mourn his loss.

As an employee of the Western Union he was faithful, tireless, patient and courteous, thoroughly reliable and trustworthy, and often worked when his strength was heavily overtaxed rather than fail in any degree to render his full measure of devotion to duty.

As a friend he was loyal, unselfish and loving, always ready to do for others, or to help any who were in need. No appeal for help ever fell unheeded upon his ears, or went unanswered. No harsh criticism or unkind word ever fell from his lips. His generosity was unfeigned.

He was an ideal son and brother. No task was ever too hard, no sacrifice too great to make for those he loved. No road was ever too long, no night too dark, for him to respond cheerfully and gladly to the call of friend or loved one who needed him.

Always cheerful, patient, generous with his time, his means and his affection, uncomplaining, ready to lend a helping hand to those in need, always thoughtful of others, forgetful of self, he lived in his modest, quiet, unobtrusive manner a true life of service, such as the Master has bidden to all to live.

His passing has brought untold sorrow to his relatives and his many friends, but his memory is sweet because of the life he has lived and the good he has done in his quiet way.

Earth is poorer for the loss of a true, generous, loving heart. Our service flag is richer for a star of gold, and Heaven is richer for the soul of one who, like the Master, lived, not for himself but for others.

The helpful letter which the soldier's father received from J. B. Eyerly, associate field director of the Red Cross at the Camp Grant base hospital, read as follows:

Oct. 1, 1918.
Mr. John F. Day,
Jacksonville, Ill.

Dear Mr. Day:
In this your hour of deepest grief when one of life's tragedies has come to you, the American Red Cross begs to offer its condolence and heartfelt sympathy.

As Louis was unconscious at the time of his death, he had no suffering, but also could leave no messages for his family. The doctors and nurses were untiring in their devotion to him and he was surrounded by hospital friends when he passed on. He was a fine man, beloved by all his fellows, and will be sadly missed by them. While he did not get to the front, his will was as fine as that of those who actually meet the enemy, and the example of patriotism that he gave will put his name always on the roll of those who gave their all for their country.

For your personal loss there can be little condolence, but in time you will learn to rejoice that you have been permitted to make this contribution to the greatest cause in which men struggle, and will be proud of the fact that he gave his life in the world's service.

Very sincerely yours,
Van B. Eyerly.

Associate Field Director.

The long cortege moved from the church to Jacksonville cemetery, where a still larger company had assembled, and the deceased was laid to rest with full military honors. The squad from Co. C fired the salute and Muslim Benjamin Burdick sounded taps. The floral emblems sent in such profusion by friends were cared for by Misses Clara DeFrates, Edna Vasconcellos, Caroline Escorce Grace and Anna Day. The bearers, most of whom had been associated with Private Day in telegraphic work, were Joseph Pine, Walter DeShara, Chester Schenute, Clarence Scott, Harold Day and L. A. Vasconcellos.

EXEMPTION BOARD NEWS

The local board, following instructions from the provost marshal general, has appointed a board of instruction. It consists of the following:

Chairman—W. D. Doying.
Medical Member—Dr. Charles E. Cole.
Chaplain—Rev. M. L. Pontius.
Lecturer—Private Hugh P. Green.
Drill Master—Lieut. W. R. James.

Working On Classifications

There are not so many callers at the local board offices just now as has been true in past days but that does not mean that the board members and assistants are not busy. Chairman Weir and Secretary Doying said yesterday that about one-half of the 1490 questionnaires thus far returned have been passed upon and the work of considering the others will be pushed along rapidly. As a general principle it can be laid down, Mr. Weir said, that married men with wives and dependent children will be placed in class 4-A. Married men without children will be in class 2-A. These rulings will apply to men who were married prior to August 5. While the rules mentioned are to be adhered to under all general conditions there may be exceptional cases where the board may decide that it is better to place a man in class 1-A than in 4-A. It will be remembered too, that the original classification does not place a man permanently, that his case is altogether in the hands of the board and transfers can be made if demands for men require it.

With reference to agricultural claims, the board is consistently following the policy of disturbing agricultural conditions just as little as possible. It is the intention to keep essential agricultural workers at home. This is, however, not a matter within the entire power of the board but recommendations along this line are made to the district board. In the past the local board's policy has succeeded in keeping agriculture moving in a way much more normal than in most counties and it is likely that this policy will continue to be successful.

GIRLS! GIRLS! TRY IT! STOP DANDRUFF AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

Hair Stops Falling Out and Gets Thick, Wavy, Strong and Beautiful.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it thru your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it, surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter for a few cents.

Corporal Johnson, returned soldier from the firing line in France, delivered a splendid address before a large congregation which assembled at the M. E. church to hear him Sunday morning. He came in interest of the 4th Liberty Loan and gave an account of his company and its part in the early stages of the war, and of the battle in and around Chateau Thierry, in which his company was on the firing line. His talk which was in a clear unstrained tone, brought the horrors of the war nearer home by being enabled to hear direct from one who had faced the shot and shell, and who had done service in the front line trenches until disabled by a Boche machine gun shell. A delegation came over from Winchester to be present at this patriotic meeting. Among whom were Messrs. Fritz Haskell and George Hogan.

Clarence Hyler came in Sunday from Leavenworth, Kansas, to visit home folks.

NOT WISELY BUT TOO WELL.

A guest is no excuse to break away from the food conservation rules. Just because you have a guest does not give you the right to offer her liberal amounts of sugar, meats, bread and all kinds of food luxuries.

A business girl lately returned from her vacation where she was the guest in the home of a friend made the remark that she never had been served such elaborate, unnecessary foods. She had been used to the conservation program and the frugal angel foods, afternoon tea confections, elaborate meats and salads were clear out of her line of wartime habits.

There is indeed a certain deference due to one who shares your salt. We show it by offering our best to our visitors. But the best we have to lay before our guests today is an opportunity to help win the war.

Any other estimate is an insult.

Ice Boxes on Wheels

Refrigerator cars for carrying meat are ice boxes traveling on wheels.

Most people in America would have to go without fresh meat, or would have to pay more for what they could get, if it were not for these traveling ice boxes.

Gustavus F. Swift, the first Swift in the packing industry, saw the need of these traveling ice boxes before others.

He asked the railroads to build them. The railroads refused. They were equipped, and preferred to haul cattle rather than dressed beef.

So Gustavus F. Swift had to make the cars himself. The first one was a box car rigged up to hold ice. Now there are 7,000 Swift refrigerator cars. Each one is as fine an ice box as you have in your home.

Day and night, fair weather and foul, through heat and cold, these 7,000 cars go rolling up and down the country, keeping meat just right on its way to you.

Thus another phase of Swift & Company's activities has grown to meet a need no one else could or would supply, in a way that matched Swift & Company ideas of being useful.

When you see one of these Swift & Company cars in a train, or on a siding, you will be reminded of what is being done for you as the fruit of experience and a desire to serve.

CITY COUNCIL IN BRIEF MONDAY SESSION

Officers Reports Received and Approved—Mayor Says There are No Government Objections to East State Street Paving.

The session of the city council Monday morning was quite brief, Mayor Rodgers, Commissioners Widmayer and White being the only ones present. There were no reports from departments and the reports of officers which were received and placed on file are summarized below. Commissioner White mentioned some efforts being made in street pavement repair and Mr. Widmayer stated that financially the city is in the same condition as heretofore. He made the motion that properly approved bill be paid when funds are available.

Mayor Rodgers made reference to the East State street pavement situation and said that he had a letter from the state highway department indicating that materials for this improvement are available because of previous arrangement made. The mayor stated that the fact that manufacturers were able to ship material indicated that the authorities would permit the work to go on. The mayor therefore was of the opinion that there was no reason on the part of traction company officials to hesitate in pushing the pavement thru.

The reports mentioned were as follows:

Officers Reports.
H. H. Summers, sexton Diamond Grove cemetery, reported 10 graves made and John E. Pires, sexton Jacksonville cemetery, reported 13 graves made. The report of Dr. A. M. King, health physician, showed a total of 37 deaths during the month of September. These deaths by wards were divided as follows: first, 12; second, 3; third, 4; fourth, 20. The range of ages was as follows: under one 1; 2 to 5, twelve; 5 to 7, fourteen; over 70, ten. The number of deaths for the fourth ward was of course increased by the fact that Jacksonville State hospital is located in that ward.

The report on contagious diseases showed smallpox 1, typhoid 5, miscellaneous 6. R. L. Pyatt, city clerk, reported receipts from Jacksonville cemetery $159.10, Diamond Grove, $329.50.

Water collections, shown by report of W. H. Cobb, superintendent, were $3,104.91. Of this amount $2,919.88 was rents, $29.50 meter repairs, $5 sewer flushing, $50 from sale of meters and $9 for taps.

The report of C. B. Graft, city treasurer showed the sum of $3,567.72 in the general fund as of Sept. 30.

Her parents celebrated their golden wedding anniversary not long since in their southern home and had many of their children with them. One son is a returned missionary and is doing Y. M. C. ## MUST BE RULED BY SPIRIT OF CHRIST

Rev. W. E. Collins Says that in the Final Adjustment When Peace Comes the Allies Must be Governed by Sentiments of the Sermon on the Mount.

A fine audience assembled at Congregational church Sunday evening to hear Rev. W. E. Collins on the subject of hate in the war. The key note to the sermon was "Hate the sin but love the sinner."

He first read the account of the condemnation of Cain after he had killed his brother and then read that wonderful discourse on love as contained in the 13th chapter of first Corinthians and the few verses preceding it.

Of the discourse a part only is given: Death the Great Leveller. The question is many times asked: what should be our attitude toward the German people and especially if they are conquered by the allies? There were four men dead, one a German and three allies. When the funeral services were conducted they asked the officiating minister if he would say the service over the German and he said he would. The man was dead and there could no longer be a factor of sentiment in the breasts of civilized men. The German prisoners in a camp I know are happy and contented, well fed and cared for.

But what of the Kaiser? He is a sinner above all humanity. He has violated every law of right, justice and mercy. But the law will break him far worse. The law of love leads men to heaven; the law of hate takes them to hell and breaks down the men who are actuated by it.

The Doctrine of Hate. International good will cannot forever be mocked and ignored. Alexander, Napoleon, Caesar and many others tried it but all came to grief, and so will it break the Kaiser too. The Kaiser calls this war just and holy but it is grounded in hatred deep and unyielding. German children even are all others in that land have been taught to hate England down to the least and they have been taught to transmit the feeling to the children's children.

That will break Germany faster than war. The attempt to preach force as the greatest law is and ever will be a failure. The German nation will break itself and no one can hinder it. The day will come all too soon when like the cry of Lady Macbeth they will deplore the blood on their guilty hands. Germany has wandered far away from the law of right and must come back. And here comes the crucial question: Dare we be Christian enough to welcome her back in to the family of nations if she comes penitent asking forgiveness?

Autocracy Must Go. Autocracy and militarism must be utterly crushed if the world is to be made safe for Democracy. We hate autocracy and all that pertains to it and must wipe it from the face of the earth if the world is to be made safe for freedom and human rights. It must be crushed so that it will never raise its head again and when that is fully done the kingdom of Christ must prevail.

When the Redeemer was raised on the cross he prayed for his persecutors who knew not what they were doing but not so with the Hun; he does know and only too well.

The late Jenkins Lloyd Jones said if Belgium had resisted but had told Germany to march across and do as she liked there might not have been any war but we know better. Our first duty is to fight this thing thru to the bitter end and then comes a different spirit.

Humanity Must Rule. In my native town men were brought prisoners who had done many evil and cruel things to men from that very place but they were not treated in like manner but instead with true humanity which is the right spirit.

Three men of the allied army surrounded a German and two of them were killed and the third was being taken back a prisoner when his captor was badly wounded and bade his prisoner flee for his life but the German replied,

"No; you saved my life and I will save yours." To hate is contrary to the best laws of mankind. The minds of France, United States and England are turning to the things before the war and efforts are being made to establish a better order of things. A prelate once said he hoped God would exterminate the Germans and in the next breath he asked forgiveness for his remark. Judas betrayed his Master and committed suicide and so will come the day when German autocracy will want to restrain her troops and surrender all her vain ambitions and then must come the day when all the allies and the world will unite in being controlled by the sentiments of the sermon on the Mount.

GREAT INTEREST IN REVIVAL SERVICES

Meetings at Concord Christian Church Well Attended—Concord News Notes.

The revival meeting at the Christian church is about to close, and the interest is at the highest point. Sunday night the church was filled with a fine audience that listened with close attention to the earnest forceful pleas of Evangelist O. C. Bolman. But for the convention of the church at St. Louis beginning Wednesday another week of the services would meet with grand success no doubt. The next three months may yet be the most fruitful of Brother Cantrell's pastorate. One of the elders of the church has hung up a new flag as a prize to the Sunday school class which succeeds in bringing in the greatest number of new church members from now until Christmas. The watchword of the class may now well be, "Come and join our ranks. You will like it here."

Concord seems to be on the "airplane way" Saturday afternoon one was seen going over the village north bound. Sunday afternoon the same one, or another one passed our way.

Mr. and Mrs. George Woolf have returned from Mercedosa where they visited a number of relatives for about two weeks. Minister Thomas W. Bass and family of Sweetwater came by auto last Wednesday evening just in time for supper and then to attend the revival. Mr. Bass was ordained here several years ago and is now pastor of the Christian church at Sweetwater. They attended every service until Monday morning when they returned home.

Among those who expect to attend the St. Louis convention of the Christian churches, are Minister and Mrs. C. G. Cantrell, Miss Alma Deterding and Miss Lela Bayless.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. B. A. Cratz entertained the Kings' Daughters Class of which she is teacher in honor of Mrs. T. W. Bass of Sweetwater.

R. Earl Abernathy began his term as superintendent of the Christian Sunday school. The other officers were re-elected. The Kings' Daughters Class re-organized with Olive L. Morrison, president; Bertha Bayless, vice president; Flora Johnson, secretary; Ethelyn Plank treasurer.

G. F. Lewis is busy remodeling the dwelling house of J. T. Gaddis of Concord.

Merle Abernathy writes from Camp Taylor that he has been examined for overseas duty and passed. He is looking forward with much enthusiasm to a trip "over there."

Jay Cooper has been transferred from Camp Taylor to a camp in Texas.

Taylor Alderson returned to Camp Taylor, Ky., on Thursday, after a short visit home. His brother Roy was also on a visit, and returned to his work in Galesburg on Sunday.

A sister of A. J. Wheeler has just concluded a visit at their home near Pleasant View.

Mrs. Arlie Han returned home on Sunday from a visit with her aunt Mrs. Ratliff in Springfield.

George Brunk has just received word of the death of a nephew from influenza. He was a soldier in camp.

Mrs. Oscar Reams has returned from Camp Taylor where she went to visit her son J. E. Reams who is in the service.

Mrs. R. C. Henly of Springfield has returned home after visiting her daughter, Mrs. Llyad Clement near Griggsville.

Mrs. James Webster moved to Pittsfield last Wednesday.

A good many from this village went to Mercedosa last Thursday and reported having plenty of fun and a splendid time. Mrs. Mary A. Hamm returned home from Alexander on Tuesday where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Mose.

Mrs. A. J. Wheeler went to Chapin today on account of the illness of her brother Russel Nergenah.

A BOON FOR THE SOUTH.

Joseph Hopper, who has been in the south, says that a new plant has been introduced there which bids fair almost to work an evolution in southern agriculture. It is the velvet bean and is of the same nature as a soy bean or cowpea, a legume and planted with corn he says the ordinary crop of an acre will make 200 lbs. of pork when the hogs are turned in to harvest the crop. It is beneficial to the land and is being largely introduced and is proving of great value to the people there.

SOLDIER KNOWN HERE DIED IN FRANCE.

In the Chicago Tribune Sunday in the photograph section appeared the picture of John Davies, who was killed in action in France on August 16. The soldier was in the engagement at Chateau Thierry and survived without injury but was killed in a latter battle. Deceased is known to a number of Jacksonville people and a brother, Ray S. Davies, was in this city a year or two ago as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Widmayer. R. S. Davies is also in the army service and is in the 149th field artillery. Both of these young men formerly lived at Griggsville.

MORE FIGURES GIVEN IN BOND CAMPAIGN

Two-Thirds of County Allotment in Sight, According to Chairman Capps—Re-checking Work is About Completed.

"We are making some readjustments of figures," said Chairman Capps of the Liberty Loan county committee yesterday. "We have accurate reports from all the banks of Jacksonville and are expecting them Tuesday morning from all other banks in the county, showing the exact amount of subscriptions reported. This recombining and adjustment plan has been necessary because of some duplication and in order to have the allotments apportioned to the proper districts."

Under the government plan, too, it has been necessary to make some readjustment among banks located in other counties but extending in their clientage into this county. My estimate of the actual subscriptions without any duplications is $1,200,000. This means that the quota for the county is fully two-thirds subscribed.

The figures from the Jacksonville banks, showing the actual total subscriptions up to Saturday night, were as follows:
Ayers National Bank ..$264,217
Farrell & Co. .... 134,350
Elliot State Bank .... 257,350
Farmers State Bank and Trust Company ..... 65,200
Dunlap-Russell & Co. ... 50,100

Total ..$771,217
"With special information that we have from the county I believe that the subscriptions will run to $1,200,000. I know of at least $50,000 which has not yet been subscribed. When it is considered that practically every subscription thus far made has been voluntary it certainly makes a fine showing for this county. We are really having no campaigns in one. The first campaign takes into account all voluntary subscriptions and after they have all been received and tabulated there must be figures to show the balance of each school district allotment and then there must be a canvassing campaign."

"As soon as all these figures have been prepared the district chairman, school directors and others interested in the organization will have the figures in their hands to know exactly what is necessary to do. As I have already said, the organization committee considers that this county has made a splendid showing and it is just a question of a comparatively short time until the remaining $500,000 needed to complete the county quota has been secured."

FRANCIS DUMMER INJURED.

He is a member of the famous 6th marines and has been in the service for some time. He was wounded on the second day of the battle of Soissons and for a time it was feared that he would never be in the ranks again, but he is now on the road to recovery and expects soon to resume service.
